

Daniel S. Seidman, MD, MCSc

- Associate professor at the Sackler School of Medicine, Tel-Aviv University.
- Director of the Research Unit and a senior physician at the IVF unit of the Division of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Sheba Medical Center, Tel-Hashomer, Tel-Aviv.
- Completed a fellowship in Reproductive Surgery at the Stanford Medical Center, Stanford, California.
- Trained in Advanced Endoscopic Surgery for three years at the Stanford Endoscopy Center, Stanford, California under the supervision of Prof. Camran Nezhat.
- Currently the elected President of the Israeli Society of Contraception and Sexual Health
- Elected member of the Executive Board of the Israeli Fertility Society.
- Head of the Academic board of the Israeli Training Endoscopy Center (ITEC).
- Two times winner of First Prize in the American Association of Gynecological Laparoscopists (AAGL) "Golden Hysteroscope Competition".
- Published over 250 research papers mainly in the field of advanced endoscopic surgery and human reproduction.
- Director of the Human Reproduction Course at the Sackler Faculty of Medicine Academy for Advanced Degrees, Tel-Aviv University.
- Member of the Israeli Medical Association Research Committee

Motti (Mordechai) Goldenberg, MD, MCSc

- Director of the Gynecological Endoscopy Unit at the Division of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Sheba Medical Center, Tel-Hashomer, Tel-Aviv.
- Associate clinical professor at the Sackler School of Medicine, Tel-Aviv University.
- Director of the Israeli Training Endoscopy Center (ITEC).
- The elected President of the Israeli Society of Gynecological Endoscopic Surgery.
- Published over 100 research papers mainly in the field of laparoscopic and hysteroscopic surgery.